

Operation Newstart Western

Kinglake Ranges Wilderness Camp

I am a police officer who runs an outdoor adventure program for at risk students in Melbourne's west, and I have been associated with KRWC for over 10 years now. I have always loved coming to the camp, the rustic old buildings, the bush surround, and most importantly, the staff. During this time I have formed many great friendships with a team who not only tolerates the clients I bring, but also understands and supports them.

Although the rustic charm was lost as a result of Black Saturday, a new clean, modern camp has emerged which is a credit to Col and his team. The Leadership Centre provides modern facilities for all of those who want to use up to date IT equipment, but you can still avoid all of that and sleep in the tee pees or better still, under a tarp out in the bush.

If you are considering using KRWC as a location for your organisation, I highly recommend it. The team is constantly striving to provide current, relevant camps to suit your school/ business/ community group needs. Thanks for all of your support over the years and into the future.
